Life gets hard. There are days that I don't intentionally live out my life in a manner pleasing to God. I think we all have been there. We've experienced a bad report at work, a call from a family member, or discouraging news from a friend. Some of us are feeling the weight of empty chairs at church—maybe as a result of COVID-19. I get it.

The Life That Pleases God - Bible Center

Answer: Pleasing God is, or should be, the goal of all believers—all who call upon the name of Christ for salvation. The requirements for all who want to please God are that they must seek God by faith, walk in the Spirit and not in the flesh, and walk worthy of our calling in obedience and submission to the will of God.

What Does the Bible Say About Pleasing God?

God made you to be you. If you're going to become all you can be, you have to refuse to be defined by others. Hebrews 11:24 says, "By faith Moses, when he had grown up, refused to be known as the son of Pharaoh's daughter" (NIV). Moses had an identity crisis.

A Life that Pleases God - Faithlife Sermons

Hebrews 11:6 makes it very clear that the life that is pleasing to God is a life lived by faith and by seeking after God Himself. Faith is not meritorious. It does not earn anything from God, as God's favor and promises cannot be earned. Yet faith receives and rests upon Christ in the gospel and apprehends the promises of God in wondrous ways.

teacher of ecumenical significance. At a time when the sources of their rich spiritual heritage are being re-appropriated by Christians of many traditions, it is strange that little attention has so far been given to Basilian spirituality. A Life Pleasing to God tells the story of Basil's own spiritual development in the theologically turbulent fourth-century. Its core is a study of those passages of the Asceticon which illustrate his understanding of the foundation of the Christian life and lay out the possibilities, and problems, of Christian community.

man? One leads to an abundant Spirit-filled life, while the other leads to a lonely life without the direction of Jesus Christ. Pastor Thomas E. Davis, Jr., of Wheeler Chapel, Church in Courtland, Alabama, shows you how to live a life well pleasing to God so that He will never leave you alone.

Living A Life That Is Pleasing Unto God should be the desire of all mankind. God is our creator and His ultimate desire was to have a relationship with His creation. The first man & woman created in Adam & Eve failed in being obedient and damaged our relationship with God. Now we must seek to make our relationship right through His son Jesus Christ which was the ultimate sacrifice to redeem us. Jesus said in the Bible that He is the way, the truth, and the life.
